Barack Obama gets his own twitter account

For years, The White House in America has used Twitter to communicate but President Barack Obama didn't have his own personal account.

That all changed yesterday when he set one up and tweeted his first message that has since been retweeted more than 200,000 times.

"Hello, Twitter! It's Barack. Really! Six years in, they're finally giving me my own account" he tweeted.

The White House says every tweet on the account will come exclusively from the President and the account will transfer to whoever is next in the White House.

One of the first people to tweet him was his wife Michelle who said "it's about time!"

So far, more than 1.5 million people have followed him.

South Africa's three-year-old superstar DJ

Oratilwe, the three-year-old superstar DJ making waves in South Africa.

He still wears nappies and only speaks a few words... but that hasn't stopped him discovering a love for Dj-ing at parties and getting people dancing.

Under the nickname Arch Junior, Oratilwe has already made appearances on local radio and at gigs in his local area.

But even though his parents are supportive of his hobby, they're going to make sure he doesn't miss out at school.
